Joel Diprose is the Marketing and Communications Manager for Ten Lives. Starting as a volunteer in 2009 designing the Scratching Post, he became a casual staff member in 2014 helping out with admin. Joel now also looks after our social media, website, members, sponsors and retail store. He produces all the posters and flyers for the Centre, helping implement our new branding and our upcoming Edu.Cat program.

Who inspires you?

I am in awe of Mitch McPherson and what he is achieving with Speak Up Stay ChatTY. He does so much wonderful work promoting suicide awareness in schools, workplaces and throughout the community. To be able to share the story of his own personal tragedy in hope that other families won't have to experience the same must be both difficult and rewarding. It's heartening to see how much support he has received from the community in his efforts to promote such an important message.

What are you reading?

Old copies of the Scratching Post!

When you aren't at work...

I'm probably working at home! I do enjoy my food and find cooking a great way to relax and unwind. Sunday drives to get to food are always great and love sampling the magnificent produce that our state has to offer.

What couldn't you live without?

My partner Kris. We've been through so much over the past 14 years and I couldn't imagine my life without him. He is always there for me and manages to keep my sanity in tact (most of the time anyway!).

What are your three favourite things?

My family, my friends and my felines.

What do you know now that wish you had known before?

When I was growing up I had very thick, wavy hair which I absolutely hated. By my early 20's it was all but gone so I wished I had enjoyed it while I had it!

What do you daydream about?

Being able to semi-retire. I would love to own a cafe or B&B in a small seaside town in Tassie.

Why the Cat Centre?

I have always been a cat lover and as a child other than caring for our own family cat, I would also look out for the welfare of many stray neighbourhood cats. Working in any not-for-profit industry has its challenges and animal welfare is a particularly emotive one. I am lucky to work with so many remarkable people who inspire me every day. We all have a common goal and play our own part in achieving amazing results for the cats and kittens of Tasmania.

A Purrfect Wedding!

Last November the Cat Centre's Op Shop was delighted to dress the wedding of Susan and Terry. The bride and groom chose their outfits from the Op Shop and the regular customers asked their guests to also wear clothes from the shop. Congratulations and thank you for your support!

In my time at the Hobart Cat Centre I have seen the organisation evolve and progress, and with this report we will be entering a new exciting stage of the organisation's history.

The Cat Centre evolved from a love of animals, and in particular cats. My research reveals that Joan Allport commenced and was President of the Tasmanian Animal Protection Society (TAPS) between 1949 and 1979. Although there is little documented, it appears that over those years Joan Allport together with Florence Robson cared for animals at private residences. TAPS is recorded as officially being incorporated in 1971, and sometime after that it became a dedicated Cat Centre at 67A Strickland Avenue, South Hobart. I can recall boarding my tabby cat Eric at this Centre in the early 1990's. I hear there were a lot of difficult times, but through the hard work of dedicated volunteers the Centre continued to grow. The current incarnation of our Op Shop was established in 1996 in Blackmans Bay by the long-serving President Mona Foster and Treasurer Alan Cunningham, and then later relocated to its current premises in Margate. The Op Shop proved essential in providing the necessary funding to maintain and grow the Centre, and has continued to be successful under Robin Tacey's stewardship. The Centre entered a new period under the President Ingrid Tebb. Following its name change in 2004 to the "Hobart Cat Centre" it moved to the premises at Selfs Point in October 2007, where it remains today. This represented a new professionalism to the Centre with a separate dedicated premises. In 2015, there was a change to the Board, and a new Strategic Plan was developed. Although the operations of the Centre have changed in many ways, one thing is clear to the current Board: we need to maintain Florence Robson's vision of providing a shelter for unwanted cats and kittens, and to advocate responsible pet ownership and education. (There are many other names which I could have and should have mentioned here, but we are in the process of compiling a full history to enable us to include everyone.)

In comparison to the early days, the issue of responsible animal care and ownership has now become a major public issue. In 1949 there was no law regulating cat owners' responsibilities, while now we have the Cat Management Act. I believe cats were rarely mentioned then in public debate, but it is hard to pick up a newspaper now and not find an article or letter about someone's opinion on cats. We consider this to be a great development, and as advocates for responsible ownership, it is important that policy is grounded on evidence and not emotion-based opinion. For this reason, we are involved in several government and community reference groups, and are pursuing strategic projects with the aim of better educating ourselves and the community on the care of cats. One of the major projects we have undertaken is to establish an in-house veterinary surgery, where we can ensure cats have immediate first class care, and our staff learn from working with the vets. My own experience with the vets taught me that my foster cat was not critically ill and did not have a personality problem, but the problem lay with me in not giving her enough time to become comfortable in her new surroundings!

We have also become partners, and entered Memorandums of Understanding with, several external organisations as part of various cat research projects, including the Cat Management Project on Bruny Island and a research project with the University of South Australia on cat roaming. It will be very interesting to see how much our beloved friends roam of an evening. Further, we have created a dedicated Community and Education Manager position, and will play a ground-breaking role in grass-roots responsible cat ownership education in schools with the Edu.Cat program.

With all these new developments and as we continue to take the lead in all thing cats, it is important that the Cat Centre is not seen as simply just a refuge for unwanted cats and kittens. We consider that the time is right for a new name to better reflect our position in the community. With our long history and the hard work of people before us who laid the foundations for such a successful organisation, we believe that the Centre is well positioned to be the leader in cat management and education in Tasmania and indeed Australia, with a new name and brand that reflects cats, the environment and the community.

We are fortunate that between the Board, staff and volunteers, the Centre has a talent pool which would be the envy of many other organisations, in any sector. This has meant that almost all of the work involved in the rebranding of the Centre has been done in-house at minimal cost, with a very professional result. Special thanks must go to our talented Marketing and Communications Manager Joel Diprose, our Centre Manager Noel Hunt and my fellow Board members, in particular our Board member Prue Horne.

As we embark on this new chapter we are very conscious not to forget our humble origins and our history. As an organisation that receives no formal government funding, we are solely reliant on the good will of the community through their donations and the hardworking volunteers to maintain our operations. Although change can take time to adjust to, I encourage everyone to embrace the new direction, and fully support the Centre in any way possible to be the leader in the care of cats in the community. With your support the Centre will continue to thrive.

The Centre has a proud history of more than 70 years of caring for cats, and we feel that Ten Lives reflects the very exciting future direction of the Centre for the next decades. As the old English proverb says, "A cat has nine lives. For three he plays, for three he strays and for the last three he stays." We believe that when a cat comes to us, we give him one extra life, so he in fact has Ten Lives.

Welcome to Ten Lives: caring for cats, the environment and the community.

Kitten Season

Welcome to Ten Lives!

Wow! It has been a big kitten season so far. We have taken in the same number of cats so far this financial year as we did for the whole of last financial year and we still have three months to go.

The great news is that we have already adopted more cats and kittens compared to the previous year. That's what keeps the team here thriving; knowing they are saving more cats than ever before and helping finding their forever home.

It is a big team effort from our reception/admin duo, the fabulous operations crew, and our of course our 'Purple People': our dedicated vet team.

Our social media activity is a big part of the success of adopting out so many of our furry charges. I get a lot of compliments about the professional presentation of all our marketing material, and do you know, we do it all in-house.

The talented Rachael Daniels donates her time every week to create those fantastic images of all our cats and kittens that you see on our posters, web page and social media. Then our marketing and communications man, Joel Diprose, crafts his magic that gives us a social media presence with a reach that exceeds the Mercury's circulation every week. Joel jokes that he just makes cat videos for a living, but we know that there is real art to producing such high-quality work on a consistent basis...and it works. More kitties in more forever homes.

Thanks Joel and Rachael!!

With a little help from my friends...

It's a great Joe Cocker hit song and the lyrics sign true for us; we get by with a little help from our friends. Our regular helpers such as ToxFree that sponsor our waste disposal; 60 Tonnes of kitty litter a year! Our media friends such as Win TV, the Mercury and Southern Cross Austereo.

Bree and Marls from 107.3 Triple M Street Patrol.

Lucy Breden from Win News

A big thanks to Max Downey of Max Downey Locksmiths. He set us up with a common key system for all our doors and storage areas. One key gets our team to all the places they need to be. I couldn't begin to tell how much more efficient is for us to care for the kitties when we aren't chasing around looking for different keys for different locks. It saves heaps and heaps of time. Thanks Max you are a true gentleman.

You probably saw in the media that the Master Plumbers membership helped us out substantially with the installation of much needed plumbing infrastructure. Heating, cooling, wash bays and more. You will read more about this in this edition of the Scratching Post. All are named and thanked in that article. But it was such a big help to us not only because of the thousands of dollars of free work and equipment, the team really appreciated that you all cared enough to take the time out of your busy work schedules to help us out doing our vital work in cat welfare. A HUGE THANK YOU; we really appreciate it.

The Clowder Collective

It was great to see the Clowder Collective kick off in February. This group of young professionals will be our messengers out in their workplaces spreading the word about our work and how people can help us help the cats. Lara Giddings was an inspirational speaker at the inaugural event. Part of the concept of the Clowder Collective is that we give the young professional members an opportunity to meet and hear from the leaders and inspirational people in our community.

Pick a number between 1 and 200

If you picked 200 you guessed the number of foster carers that are part of the Ten Lives team. 200 foster carers looking after 300 cats and kittens. You folks and our large volunteer team are the best. We are saving more cats than ever before and we just couldn't do it without your help.

When kitten season finishes in the next couple of months we will be seeking your feedback through a survey so that we can continue to improve our support for you. We know that you have gone over and above the call of duty often as we have dealt with a large number of kittens and cats this year. We really appreciate how you have just stepped up to the mark and helped us get through this challenge. One of our foster carers said to me recently that she didn't mind putting in the hard yards because she found it so rewarding. She went on to say that being a foster carer she felt like she was part of a big family at the Centre doing really worthwhile work. I think she is right.

Quick Catman to the...

Our trusty van has been traded in on a new vehicle. Now that we have our own in-house vet team we aren't transporting kitties backwards and forwards to external vets as much as used to. Our Education and Community Manager, Rose Bray, does need to get around the schools delivering our innovative responsible cat ownership program Edu.Cat. We needed a more suitable vehicle and something safer to drive; unloaded vans are a little slippery in wet conditions. The Jackson Motor Company in Derwent Park did us a great deal that made this a very inexpensive changeover. Thanks guys!

I am easily amused so I always referred to our Toyota van as the Cat Detector Van, a reference from an old Monty Python skit.

Our new vehicle sporting our new Ten Lives livery with Chester on one side and Winkie on the other, for me will always be ...the Winkie Mobile.

The year ahead

The Cat Management project on Bruny Island will get into full swing this year and we will get valuable science and data to help inform better cat welfare and management on a broader scale across Tasmania. We will be working with the University of South Australia on a cat tracking project to get insightful data on cat activities when they are out roaming. This should be underway in July.

We will have other projects starting during the year so we are expecting a busy time caring for our cats and kittens and working improving the way our community care for them as well.

We can do this with your support so to all our supporters, volunteers, foster carers and staff – thank you!

Manager

Noel Hunt

We are thrilled to begin the next chapter of the Cat Centre's history with a new name and a new look.

Why have we changed our name?

The Centre has a proud history of more than 70 years of caring for the unwanted cats and kittens of southern Tasmania. We recognise and honour the extraordinary contribution of the pioneers of animal and cat welfare, Joan Allport and Florence Robson, as well as Mona Foster, Ingrid Tebb and all the past Presidents, Managers, staff and volunteers who have made the Centre such a special place over the past four decades.

Building on this legacy, and thanks to the efforts of the Board and Centre Manager in developing and implementing the Strategic Plan over the past two years, in 2017 we are now more than just a cat rescue centre in Hobart:

- we care for the cats and kittens of southern Tasmania
- we have an in-house veterinary surgery to provide immediate, first-class care for cats
- we are educating the community on responsible cat ownership and cat welfare through our Community and Education Manager
- we will play a ground-breaking, grass roots role in responsible cat ownership across Tasmania through the school-based Edu.Cat Program from Kindergarten to Year 7
- we are taking a leading role in cat management through involvement in community reference groups and partnerships with organisations such as Councils, DPIPW, Tasmanian Conservation Trust, UTAS, University of South Australia and Tasmanian Land Conservancy.

The new name "Ten Lives Cat Centre" better reflects who we are, what we do and where we do it: for cats, the environment and the community in Tasmania. "Ten Lives" gives us a voice on a state, national and even international level as a leading cat management organisation.

TenLives

CAT CENTRE

What does Ten Lives mean?

Ten Lives is a play on the old English proverb that claims, "A cat has nine lives. For three he plays, for three he strays and for the last three he stays."

We believe that when a cat comes to us, we give him one extra life, so in fact he has Ten Lives.

What does the new logo represent?

- The cat is at the centre of everything we do
- The ten colours represent the ten lives of a cat
- The different colours represent the pillars of our Strategic Plan, which are:
  - our cats
  - our people
  - our sustainable organisation
  - our environment
  - our community.

We love our new look and hope you do too! Please come into the Centre for a closer look. Enjoy a coffee as you wander, have a smooch with our kitties for adoption and pick up a sticker to spread the word. Thank you – our success relies on your support!

Teachers, take the Edu.Cat challenge!

Did you know hundreds of unwanted cats and kittens are surrendered to shelters across Tasmania every week?

The Ten Lives Cat Centre knows there is a better way to deal with the cat crisis in our communities. Let's explore, engage and educate young people and their families on ways to reduce the number of unwanted cats and kittens, via Edu.Cat.

People. Planet. Pussy Cats.

Edu.Cat aims to increase public awareness and understanding of the complex issues surrounding cats and the environment, feline welfare and the community. Ten Lives Cat Centre are the leaders for all things cats, supporting the community in feline welfare since 1974.

Take the STEM Challenge

The Edu.Cat program is grounded in STEM Challenges (Science, Technology, Engineering, Maths). The education program is designed by experts in feline welfare and education and includes:

- alignment to the Australian Curriculum for years F-7
- hands-on, real life, team challenges affecting students' daily lives
- links to STEM assessment outcomes
- incursion to ignite engagement with live cats and kittens
- three easy to follow classroom activity plans with student workbooks
- teacher handbooks, online resources, posters and more.

Teachers:

Edu.Cat is a STEM Challenge easily completed in 2 hours at the Foundation level, and in 4.5 hours in year 7. This includes a free 45-60 minute incursion by a cat education expert who has developed an engaging, hands-on session tailored to your year level.

Edu.Cat is designed to empower students to enquire, think, investigate and innovate. STEM Challenges engage students in teams in a real-life community issue, providing opportunity for skill building in:

- problem-solving

- innovative thinking
- communications
- productive teamwork
- generating multiple ideas
- decision-making.

Each Edu.Cat challenge works towards a design outcome with student assessment criteria. Students are asked big questions such as:

- What impacts do feral and pet cats have on wildlife in Tasmanian and Australia?
- What do pet cats need to survive? What do they need to be happy?
- Why does containing cats help cats, our community and wildlife? What do pet cats need to stimulate their mind and body when contained?

An example from the year 5/6 Edu.Cat Challenge is, "In teams, students design and construct a cat toy from recycled materials which is suited to their hunting adaptations, to keep cats happy inside or in an enclosure."

The Ten Lives Cat Centre's Edu.Cat program is a ground-breaking education program free to all schools in Tasmania starting Term 2, 2017.

Lord Mayor Sue Hickey launching the Edu.Cat program for schools.

The Ten Lives Cat Centre is a self-funded not-for-profit cat welfare organisation. We do not receive government funding, and we rely on funds generated from our own operations and the support of the general community.

As we move into our fifth decade of operation, it is heartening to note that our support base is ever-growing and that the community as a whole is working together to improve the lives of animals in general across the state.

How can I help?

You can help the Centre through donations.

We need old newspapers, woollen blankets, jumpers and towels which ensure our kitties stay warm, especially during our chilly Hobart winters.

We need practical items like copy paper, toilet tissue, dish liquid, washing powder, hand wash, paper towels, garbage bags and stationery products, which aren't very exciting but are extremely necessary in the running of the Centre.

We need financial donations to provide ongoing care for cats and kittens as well as the maintenance of our facilities. Donations of over $2 are tax-deductible and donations can be made via our website, over the phone or in person at the Centre.

$2 per month	will help provide toys and activities for our cats during their stay with us
$10 per month	can provide treatment for common ailments such as digestive upset, fleas and mites
$15 per month	desex, microchip and vaccinate a kitten ready for it to find its forever home
$20 per month	sponsor a cat which contributes to the cats stay with us until we find the cat a home
$50 per month	would support a litter of kittens that require foster care before being adopted

Sponsorship

If you are unable to adopt a cat, but would love to have a cat in your life, then why not sponsor one of ours? For just $20 per month your sponsorship will help us feed and house a cat or kitten and you'll receive regular updates on your sponsored cat. We encourage you to come in and visit your sponsor cat too, not only do you get some kitty therapy but you also help them settle into their environment and prepare them for their forever homes.

What we need

Office Supplies:

Copy paper (a4 & a3), pens, post-it notes, blu tac, tape, laminating pouches, staples & tissues

Cleaning Supplies:

Paper towel, toilet paper, hand soap, dishwashing liquid, disposable gloves - pref. Medical grade & latex-free

For the Cats:

Newspapers, blankets, sheets, towels, jumpers, toys, heat packs, pet beds/caves etc, cat trees, cat carriers.

Please note we are unable to accept donations of filled bedding items such as doonas or pillows.

FIND ALL OUR KITTIES AT tenlives.com.au

Lara Giddings was the inaugural guest speaker at the Clowder Collective launch event.

Many of our cat-loving readers will know that “clowder” is the collective noun for cats (always a handy one for quiz nights!). We thought it was also the perfect name for our new networking group for professionals who have a passion for animal welfare.

The purpose behind the Clowder Collective is two-fold: to further the aims of Ten Lives and to contribute to the development of the participants. Clowder members are the perfect ambassadors for Ten Lives to communicate our responsible cat ownership messages throughout their organisations and government departments, as well as encourage participation in initiatives that support cats, the environment and the community. In return, Ten Lives gives back by hosting a number of free networking events throughout the year with inspirational local guest speakers.

The Clowder Collective launch was held at the Centre on February 16th and saw 30 enthusiastic attendees hear from former Premier, Lara Giddings, over drinks and nibbles. Lara spoke candidly and openly about her parliamentary career and shared some of her life lessons so far, offering some sage advice to the audience. Her honesty and willingness to answer some tough questions made for a very interesting and enjoyable evening.

If you would like to know more or be part of the Clowder Collective, ask at the Centre or drop an email to info@tenlives.com.au

Plumbers and Cats?

Did you know 11th March was World Plumbing Day?

It sure was and Michael Overeem, President, and Angela Ayling, the Executive Officer of the Master Plumbers Association wanted to celebrate the day a little differently.

A corporate breakfast or lunch? No! They came up with the idea to mark the day by having their first Community Giving Project. They decided to help out an animal welfare charity; and they chose us! Ten Lives!

We had plumbers working in amongst the kitties as they installed wash bays, heat pumps and general improvements to the plumbing to help us look after our guests better than ever.

The Master Plumbers Association of Tasmania and its members play a vital role in developing and maintaining public health and ensuring the environmental sustainability of our community.

There is nothing more important than clean drinking water and good basic sanitation to keep the world and the people who inhabit it healthy.

A whole bunch of the members of the Master Plumbers Association contributed something to the day with volunteer labour, donations of cash and equipment including:

- Bosch
- Crisp & Ikin Agencies
- Derwent Park Plumbing Supplies
- Reece
- Tradelink
- Eveready Plumbing
- 20th Century Plumbing
- Overeem Gas & Plumbing
- Howrah Plumbing
- Professional Plumbing
- Central Roofing Supplies
- Rosetta Plumbing
- Independent Roofing
- Frank Hill Roofing Contractors
- Parrs Heat Pump & Refrigeration
- Express Plumbing

- Consumer, Building & Occupational Services

We fired up the barbie, Guy Barnett the Minister for Building and Construction dropped in to congratulate the plumbers for their initiative and Marls from 107.3 Triple M dropped by.

Ten Lives added to the celebrations to help find as many of their cats and kittens over that weekend by giving away a starter kit with every adoption worth $150 for free. 24 kitties are now enjoying their new homes.

Michael, Angela and all the members of the Master Plumbers Association contributed thousands of dollars of much needed plumbing infrastructure for Ten Lives. Not only that, the team were genuinely buoyed by the support and that the plumbers took the time out of their busy day to help.

So if you see a member of the Master Plumbers Association, be brave, go on, give 'em a scratch under the chin from us.

We say that every cat has a story, and this is one of the more amazing ones we've told!

A wildlife carer received a very unusual call for help from a cat owner. Their desexed cat had brought home five two week old kittens from a house two hundred metres away.

The kittens' biological mother had moved house with its owner two days prior. The kittens who were left behind would have died had it not been for this overly maternal cat who rescued them.

The kittens were brought to the Hobart Cat Centre on January the 20th where they were toileted, fed and placed in the loving care of one of our experienced foster carers, Vikki.

Chili, Pepper, Cinnamon, Nutmeg and Rosemary - or the 'Spice Kittens' as they became known - remained in foster care until March the 24th, when they were old enough to be desexed, microchipped, vaccinated and got the ok from our vet team to become available for adoption.

Mission complete! Vikki returns the 'Spice Kittens' to the Centre for adoption

It's because of dedicated foster carers like Vikki that we continue to achieve amazing results. Not all foster kitties require this level of care. You can find out more about foster caring and register to become a foster carer on our website tenlives.com.au.

Who inspires you?

The amazing staff and volunteers at the Cat Centre. I have been volunteering at the Centre a day a week this year so I've seen their fantastic work first-hand. They are so dedicated and stay positive despite lots of challenges and limited resources, especially during kitten season.

What are you reading?

I usually have a couple of books on the go. Right now it's a story set in Burma (where I visited last year), an English murder mystery, and Robert Cialdini's "Influence"

When you aren't at work...

I'm happy!!

My passion is travelling, seeing new places and having new experiences. I love being outdoors, especially kayaking, walking and gardening. I'm also an avid movie goer and can often be found at the State...

What couldn't you live without?

My passport, my phone and my electric blanket

What's a defining moment in your life?

Moving to Japan at the age of 20. It was a good way to grow up very quickly!
